Cooperstown Bat to Market Legendary Sports Prints

Sports Art to Complement the Historical Line of Baseball Bats

Plantsville, CT – June 7, 2007 – Legendary Sports Prints (LSP) announced today that Cooperstown Bat Company will market LSP's vast portfolio of sports art. Cooperstown Bat, long known for its extensive line of collectible baseball bats, will market LSP's prints through its prime Main Street location in Cooperstown, NY, also home to the Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum.

"Making our prints readily available to the many baseball fans that visit Cooperstown, New York each year is important for LSP," said Robert Glick, LSP's President and Co-Founder. "We not only found a great outlet for our artwork, but also a partner that shares the same passion for our art as we do," Mr. Glick added.

"Although different than our traditional core product of collectible baseball bats, combining unique and affordable sports art from LSP's renowned artists made the decision to carry their line of sports art an easy one," said Sharon Oberriter, President of Cooperstown Bat Company. "We are especially excited about the 'Iron Man' print commemorating the baseball career of Cal Ripken, Jr., who will be inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown this summer. Even before the season officially began, we have seen success in selling reproductions of this world-class painted image," Ms. Oberriter added.

One can visit Cooperstown Bat Company at 118 Main Street, Cooperstown, New York and they can be reached at 888.547.2415.
